Information about your application for a protection visa

Form 866 has 3 parts

Part A (this part)

- Explanatory notes on how to apply for a protection visa

B

Part B

- Application form to identify each person included in this application and family composition

Part C

- Personal details for each person included in this application
- A separate Part C must be completed for each person included in this application

Important – Please read this information carefully before you complete your application. Once you have completed your application we strongly advise that you keep a copy for your records.

Complete this application form if you:

- are in Australia;
- are seeking Australia's protection; and
- have your own claims for protection; or
- are a member of the same family unit of a person who has claims for protection.

You may be granted a protection visa if it is determined that you engage Australia's protection obligations and you and any members of your family unit included in the application meet all other requirements for the grant of a protection visa under the Migration Act 1958 and the Migration Regulations 1994.

To help people apply for a protection visa, Protection Application Information and Guides (PAIG) are available on the Department of Immigration and Border Protection (the Department) website www.border.gov.au/paig

Eligibility for a protection visa

Depending on your circumstances you may be eligible for a:

- permanent Protection visa;
- Temporary Protection visa (TPV); or
- Safe Haven Enterprise visa (SHEV).

You will be considered for a permanent Protection visa if:

- you arrived in Australia on a valid visa and you were immigration cleared on arrival;
- you are not an unauthorised maritime arrival; and
- you do not hold and have never held any type of TPV, a Temporary Safe Haven visa (TSHV), a Temporary (Humanitarian Concern) visa or a SHEV.

You will be considered for a TPV if:

- you were an unauthorised maritime or air arrival;
- you did not hold a valid visa or you were not immigration cleared at the border on entry to Australia; or
- you hold or have ever held a TSHV or a Temporary (Humanitarian Concern) visa.

You will be considered for a SHEV if:

- in addition to the requirements outlined above for a TPV, you indicate, by signing the declaration in Question 1 of Part B, that you, or a member of the same family unit as you and who is also an applicant for a SHEV, intends to work or study while accessing minimum social security benefits in regional Australia.

Note: TPVs and SHEVs are temporary visas. To apply for a subsequent TPV or a SHEV, complete form 1505 Application for a subsequent Temporary Protection visa or Safe Haven Enterprise visa.

A SHEV holder can also apply for a prescribed permanent or temporary onshore substantive visa (except a permanent Protection visa) if, for at least 42 months of the 5 years of the SHEV, they:

- were employed in regional Australia and did not receive certain social security benefits; or
- were enrolled in full time study in regional Australia; or
- a combination of the above.

Information on the meaning of 'regional Australia', 'work' and 'study' for the purpose of a SHEV is available on the Department's website www.border.gov.au/paig

Further information on protection visas, including on eligibility and what each visa allows you to do, is available on the Department's website www.border.gov.au

Application bars

If you:

- entered Australia without a valid visa and/or you were not immigration cleared (as an offshore entry person or an unauthorised maritime arrival or unauthorised air arrival); or
- have been refused a protection visa since your last arrival to Australia; or
- have had a protection visa cancelled since your last arrival to Australia; or
- are a national of 2 or more countries; or
- have protection in a prescribed safe third country; or
- have ever held a TSHV;

you will be prevented from making a valid protection visa application unless you have been notified that the Minister has lifted any application bar. The Minister has the power to lift any application bar if it is determined to be in the public interest. If you are affected by any application bar you will be advised.

Further information on application bars and the Minister's guidelines for waiving them is available on the Department's website www.border.gov.au/paig

To make a valid application

To make a valid application you must:

- pay the visa application charge (there may not be a charge if you are in detention);
- be in Australia;
- provide your residential address;
- provide personal identifiers (eg. digital photograph and fingerprints);
- not be prevented from lodging an application because of any application bars; and
- complete this form and put forward reasons for claiming protection or be a member of the family unit of someone who is claiming protection.

Note: If you have not previously provided personal identifiers (biometrics) you will need to have them collected at an office of the Department. You will be sent information on what you need to do and when to have them collected. If you fail to comply with a request by the Department for personal identifier/biometrics collection, your application will become invalid.

Your immigration status

As an applicant for a protection visa you may be eligible for a bridging visa. Eligibility for a bridging visa is determined primarily by the applicant's immigration status at the time of lodging the protection visa application. Depending on your circumstances you may also be eligible for permission to work on a bridging visa. A bridging visa will give you lawful status in Australia. Further information about bridging visas is available on the Department's website www.border.gov.au

If you hold a valid visa you should lodge your protection visa application before your current visa expires. If your current visa expires, and you have not lodged a valid application, you will become unlawful in Australia. If you become unlawful you may be detained.

Deciding if you should apply for a protection visa

If you apply for protection and you are refused, it is unlikely that you will be able to apply for another visa while still in Australia.

If you are not a person to whom Australia has protection obligations, there may be other visas more suitable to your circumstances. More information on finding the right visa for you is available on the Department's website www.border.gov.au

Further information on Australia's protection obligations is available on the Department's website www.border.gov.au/paig

Evidence and supporting documents

You should provide with your application certified copies of:

- any documents/evidence that you think will support your claim for protection;
- all pages of passports and other travel documents held by all persons in the application, including the documents you used to enter Australia; and
- any documents/evidence to support the relationship between each person in the application (eg. birth certificates, notarial certificates, marriage certificates, financial documents and undertakings for de facto relationships, financial documents to evidence that dependants over the age of 18 are dependent on you, and any other evidence to support relationships between each applicant).

Original documents that you have provided with your application will be returned to you, while the certified copies will be retained by the Department.

Documents in a language other than English should be accompanied by an English translation completed by a translator accredited by the National Accreditation Authority for Translators and Interpreters (NAATI).

All claims for protection and supporting documentation and evidence should be provided when you lodge this application.

Who can certify my documents?

For a full list of people who can certify documents/photographs please see the Statutory Declarations Regulations 1993, available from the Attorney-General's website www.ag.gov.au

Members of the family unit

A member of the family unit of someone making claims for protection can include a partner, dependent children and certain other dependants.

Members of the family unit may apply together on the same form and must all be in Australia at the time of application.

If a child is born to an applicant after an application is lodged and before a decision is made on that application by the Department, the child will be taken to be included in that application. You should promptly notify the Department of the birth of your child by sending a certified copy of their birth certificate.

More information on who is a member of the family unit can be found on form 1497i Including family members in your refugee, humanitarian or protection visa application. Form 1497i is available from the Department's website www.border.gov.au/allforms

Help with your application

Information on getting help for your application is available on the Department's website www.border.gov.au/paig

Immigration assistance

Migration agents or exempt persons can give immigration assistance. You can access information about migration agents and exempt persons on the Department's website

www.border.gov.au

Appointing a migration agent/exempt person

To appoint a migration agent/exempt person you should complete Options for receiving written communications in Part B of this form.

Your migration agent/exempt person should complete form 956 Advice by a migration agent/exempt person of providing immigration assistance.

Form 956 is available from the Department's website

www.border.gov.au/allforms/

Warning: Some visa applicants have been victims of scams, paying large sums of money to fraudulent immigration advisors who promise guaranteed visas.

No one can guarantee that you will receive a protection visa, or the timeframe in which your application will be processed.

Options for receiving written communications

If you do not appoint a migration agent/exempt person you may still authorise another person, in writing, to receive written communications on your behalf. This person is called the authorised recipient.

Authorised recipient information

All written communication about your application will be sent to your authorised recipient, unless you indicate that you wish to have health and/or character information sent directly to you.

The Department will communicate with the most recently appointed authorised recipient as you may only appoint one authorised recipient at any time for a particular application.

You will be taken to have received any documents sent to that person as if they had been sent to you.

To appoint an authorised recipient you should complete:

- Options for receiving written communications in Part B of this form; and
- form 956A Appointment or withdrawal of an authorised recipient.

Note: Migration agents/exempt persons do not need to complete form 956A.

Form 956A is available from the Department's website

Consent to communicate electronically

The Department may use a range of means to communicate with you. However, electronic means such as fax or email will only be used if you indicate your agreement to receiving communication in this way.

To process your application the Department may need to communicate with you about sensitive information, for example, health, police checks, financial viability and personal relationships. Electronic communications, unless adequately encrypted, are not secure and may be viewed by others or interfered with.

If you agree to the Department communicating with you by electronic means, the details you provide will only be used by the Department for the purpose for which you have provided them, unless there is a legal obligation or necessity to use them for another purpose, or you have consented to use for another purpose. They will not be added to any mailing list.

The Australian Government accepts no responsibility for the security or integrity of any information sent to the Department over the internet or by other electronic means.

If you authorise another person to receive documents on your behalf and they wish to be contacted electronically, their signature is required on form 956 or 956A to indicate their consent to this form of communication.

Note: Electronic communication is the fastest means of communication available and the Department prefers to communicate electronically.

Important information about privacy

Your personal information is protected by law, including the Privacy Act 1988. Important information about the collection, use and disclosure (to other agencies and third parties, including overseas entities) of your personal information, including sensitive information, is contained in form 1442i Privacy notice. Form 1442i is available from the Department's website www.border.gov.au/allforms/ or offices of the Department. You should ensure that you read and understand form 1442i before completing this form.

SHEV applicants

If you are granted a SHEV and later make a valid application for a further prescribed visa, the Department may disclose your personal information to the Department of Human Services, the Department of Social Services, the Department of Education and Training, and other government agencies and third parties where required, in order to determine whether you meet the requirements for making a valid application for the prescribed visa.

Accessing your personal information

Under the Freedom of Information Act 1982 you or someone authorised to access information on your behalf, can apply for access to documents containing personal information. There is no fee for accessing your own information. If you are overseas, you must provide an address in Australia to which copies of documents or other records can be sent. More information on how to make a request under the Freedom of Information Act 1982 is given on form 424A Request for access to documents and/or information.

How to lodge your application

You must lodge this application form by post. Information on how to lodge your application is available on the Department's website www.border.gov.au/paig

I confirm that I have read, or had explained to me, information provided by the Australian Government on Australian society and values.

I understand:

- Australian society values equality of opportunity for individuals, regardless of their race, religion or ethnic background;
- the English language, as the national language, is an important unifying element of Australian society.

I undertake to respect these values of Australian society during my stay in Australia and to obey the laws of Australia.

I understand that, if I should seek to become an Australian citizen:

- Australian citizenship is a shared identity, a common bond which unites all Australians while respecting their diversity;
- Australian citizenship involves reciprocal rights and responsibilities. The responsibilities of Australian citizenship include obeying Australian laws, including those relating to voting at elections and serving on a jury.

If I meet the legal qualifications for becoming an Australian citizen and my application is approved I understand that I would have to pledge my loyalty to Australia and its people.
